Union Apprenticeships Focus of Open House in Idaho Falls

The Idaho Department of Labor, along with area unions, is hosting an informational event celebrating National Apprenticeship Week for the community Thursday, Nov. 17, 1 – 3 p.m. at Labor's Idaho Falls office, 1515 E. Lincoln Road.

The event is designed to educate attendees about union apprenticeships in the building trades including how the program works and its benefits.

Representatives from Sheet Metal Works 103, OSLIETT Labors Training School Laborers Union 155 and Eastern Idaho Electrical JATC will be on hand to answer questions.

There is no registration required for the free event, and activities and door prizes are part of the agenda. Idaho Career and Technical Education also co-sponsors the event.

For more information, contact Windy Keele at (208) 557-2500, ## 3053 or Heather Nunamaker at (208) 557-2500, ## 3878.

Those with disabilities who need a reasonable accommodation to participate can call the Idaho Falls Labor office at (208) 557-2500, ## 3053 or ## 3878. To access the Idaho Relay Service for the deaf and hard of hearing, dial 711.
