Workshop Set on Unemployment Insurance, Labor Laws

The Idaho Department of Labor is sponsoring a workshop Oct. 25 on unemployment insurance and labor laws for employers.

The free workshop runs from 8:15 a.m. until noon at the department's Caldwell office, 4514 Thomas Jefferson St.

This workshop will be taught by unemployment insurance specialists and is designed to help employers learn how they can control their unemployment insurance taxes. Topics to be discussed include employee separations, understanding and responding to unemployment claims, the appeals process, labor law changes, fraud and related topics.

Supervisors, managers, human resource specialists and others wishing to participate should reserve their space in this workshop by contacting Bea Murphy at (208) 332-3570 ext. 3523 or Bea.Murphy@labor.idaho.gov. Customers with disabilities who need a reasonable accommodation to participate also can contact Murphy. To access the Idaho Relay Service for the deaf and hard of hearing, dial 711.
